

Media Contacts:

Jackie Quintanilla / Rachel Martin
323.202.1053 / 323.202.1031
jacqueline.quintanilla@edelman.com
rachel.martin@edelman.com

FACTS ABOUT THE UNINSURED

LOS ANGELES COUNTY

- 81 percent of uninsured children are between six and 18 years old
- 75 percent of uninsured children are Latino
- 62 percent of uninsured children are born in the United States
- 87 percent of uninsured children reside in households with incomes less than 300 percent of the federal poverty level (approximately $47,000 a year for a family of three)
- 57 percent of uninsured children are eligible but not enrolled in Medi-Cal or Healthy Families
- 30 percent of uninsured children are eligible but not enrolled in Healthy Kids

CALIFORNIA

- Less than 10 percent (about 780,000) of California's children remain uninsured
- Of those children under age 18 without health insurance, 14 percent statewide are from families with incomes below 100 percent of the poverty level (less than $16,000 a year for a family of three)
- More than one fourth of all Latinos are uninsured, as are 11 percent of African Americans, 13 percent of Asians, and 19 percent of Native American Indians. In comparison, only 9 percent of Whites are uninsured.